With up to 30% discount and a romantic dinner for two, couples can plan a future break in some of Spain’s most romantic cities for travel up to the end of 2021

London, February 2021. Valentine’s Day may be celebrated a little differently for many this year but, to help couples make the day more special, NH Hotel Group’s ‘Romantic Getaway’ package is the perfect way to give the gift of future travel for stays until the end of 2021. With up to 30% discount, a complimentary romantic dinner for two and the flexibility of free cancellation up to 48-hours before travel, couples can plan now and travel later for an unforgettable romantic escape.

With a choice of participating hotels in Spain*, there’s a trip ideal for every couple, whether it’s a mini-break to the bright lights of Madrid, a romantic retreat in Seville or discovering the culture of a lesser known city such as Zaragoza.

Flamenco dance through the streets of Seville

The capital of Andalusia, Seville is renowned for its warm climate, fantastic food and spectacular architecture, but it’s also the birthplace of passionate flamenco! A visit to one of the city’s many intimate flamenco clubs or shows is a must on any trip to the region and a great way to learn a few flamboyant moves to impress a loved one!

Located in the heart of Seville, within easy strolling distance of some of the city’s most famous shows, is the newly renovated NH Sevilla Plaza de Armas. With 262 rooms, the hotel also boasts a rooftop pool and sun terrace offering impressive views of the city. Included within the package is a romantic dinner for two at the hotel’s Tablafina restaurant, which specialises in local and Spanish cuisine.

Music and lights in Spain's cosmopolitan capital

For those looking for bright lights and glamour during their break, Madrid's Gran Vía is the place to go! This vibrant street boasts some of the liveliest nightlife the Spanish capital has to offer, and is packed with restaurants, bars and theatres, giving it its reputation as the Spanish Broadway.

Just around the corner from the Gran Vía is the NH Collection Madrid Suecia. Originally opened in 1956, it served as the Madrid home of both Che Guevara and Ernest Hemingway and now offers a rooftop pool, terrace and 123 bright spacious rooms following a 2016 renovation. Guests booking the Romantic Getaway package can enjoy dinner for two at the Casa Suecia restaurant, which is also home to the underground Hemingway Cocktail Bar, an exclusive art deco space inspired by the times of the prohibition with plush velvet couches and a quirky vintage interior - a great place for a cocktail or two!

Head off the beaten tourist tracks in Zaragoza

It may not be as well-known as some of Spain's other regional capitals, but Zaragoza oozes charm, history and stunning Moorish architecture and is the ideal city for couples wanting to venture off the well-beaten tourist tracks. In the northern Spanish region of Aragón, Zaragoza is home to a wealth of grand monuments and palaces – including some of the best Moorish architecture in the country - as well as the picturesque Río Ebro river which runs through its centre.

Housed within one of the city's grand historic buildings is NH Collection Gran Hotel de Zaragoza, close to some of the city's best museums, shops and galleries. The hotel offers 133 rooms, an opulent domed reception and the La Ontina restaurant serving authentic Spanish cuisine, where those who book the Romantic Getaway package can enjoy a romantic dinner for two.
