LONDON, 29 April 2022 – EVA Air, Taiwan’s leading independent airline, has announced that it is to resume its London Heathrow – Bangkok service from July 2022. The first flight will leave on 3rd July and the resumed passenger service will run three days per week, departing on Tuesdays, Fridays and Sundays.

This will be welcome news for the travel industry and EVA Air customers and coincides with the recent announcement that from 1st May international arrivals to Thailand who are fully vaccinated will no longer be required to undergo any tests before arrival in Thailand.

EVA Air has already resumed its flights to Taiwan, but this will mark the first time it has operated into Bangkok since the pandemic struck. The award-winning airline retains its desirable flight departure time of 2135 from Heathrow’s Terminal 2.

Commenting on the news, Sarah Wu, EVA Air’s General Manager of the London office said: “We are delighted to announce that our flights to Bangkok will start again from July. We would like to thank all our partners for their support and are very much looking forward to welcoming our passengers back to Thailand again.”

Despite the pandemic, EVA Air has continued to maintain its excellent reputation as one of the world’s leading airlines, with multiple award accolades and is a Star Alliance member and one of only 11 SKYTRAX-rated 5-star airlines in the world.
